

Class Three Newsletter – 5.5.17

This Week...

What a beautiful week it has been! It has been lovely to see the children playing on the field at break and lunchtimes. We are so blessed to have school grounds where we can see bluebells, blossom and new life all around us. On Thursday we took our worship outside and explored what peace means to us and how we can be peacemakers; a real skill for life. In our English work we have been writing scenes for our playscript and the children have been applying their skills with adverbs, using them effectively in their stage directions. We have been focusing on features of the genre and using a marking ladder to check we have been successful in using them in our writing. The children are becoming more aware of their own strengths and areas for improvement and this is one way in which they can take charge of their own learning. We have revisited addition and subtraction in maths, adding and subtracting large numbers using formal methods as well as rounding to estimate. Class 3 are making great leaps forward in their maths and enjoy a challenge. Science saw us exploring magnets and recognising that contact between two objects is not always necessary for a force to be applied.

Next Week...

Next week is Assessment Week in English and Maths. We will be working hard to recall all our previous learning in grammar, reading, writing and number. The results of these tests will lead on to us setting new targets for your child to achieve in the upcoming weeks and months. We will also be learning about the Romans and collecting information ready to use in a non-fiction report.
