Autumn Term – 13/10/17

This Week...

Maths

This week we have been using Mental and Written methods for Subtraction. We have counted up using a number line and also revised the formal written method. We have also had an introduction to algebra!

English

In English this week we have become journalists and written our Newspaper Articles about our new animal species; we have also been writing about Mother Teresa, what we have learnt from her and how this compares with the way we live our lives.

Across the Curriculum

We have investigated the variations and adaptations of bird's beaks this week using tweezers to represent the beaks and various foods. In our R.E lesson we have thought about the Life-journey of a Christian and considered a day in the life of a "Super Christian!" In Geography we have learnt about longitude and latitude and how to locate places on our globe.

Next Week...

Maths

We will be moving on to Mental and Written Division using large numbers and decimals.

English

We will be thinking about zoos and writing a balanced argument that outlines the pros and cons of animals living in them.
