This Week in Reception

We have had a very busy week in Reception continuing our theme All About Me and People Who Help us. The children have been looking at how people in the community can keep us safe. They have really enjoyed taking on the role of policemen, nurses and firemen. The children have been redeveloping the home corner and have decided that next week they would like this area to be a doctor's waiting room/hospital. If anyone at home has any resources that we could use in class they would be very much appreciated. Old fancy dress outfits, bandages etc would be great. There is a picture below to give you some ideas.

Notices

Thank you to all the parents that attended the Welcome Meeting and Phonics Workshop. It was great to see you all and I really appreciated your feedback and support.

Homework

You will find your child's homework in their book bags - apologies for the error last week. Many thanks Mrs Smith

Next week in Reception

Next week we will be continuing to learn about people who help us in the community. We are looking to have visitors come into school to speak to the children about their role in the community. If any parents are nurses, doctors etc and you would like to come in and talk to the children please let me know. In our numeracy lessons we will be beginning to learn our number bonds to 10.

On over the rainbow this week is.....

Matthew
Kayla
Daisy
Harvey
Freddie
Sienna
Isaac
Elissa
Elliot

Well done also to Freddie for receiving the curriculum certificate for his amazing work and attitude in class. Congratulations to Daisy for showing the Christian value of Forgiveness.
