Autumn Term – 29/9/17

This Week...

Maths

This week we have been learning different strategies for multiplying numbers. We have been finding out how known facts can help us work out more complex calculations.

English

In English we have been researching Antarctica which links to our Geography lessons. We have written an information text to show what we have learnt about this continent.

Across the Curriculum

We have created posters about animal adaptations this week using the laptops. These are now on display outside our classroom alongside our African themed silhouettes! Please feel free to come into school on Wednesday which is my class 'Open Door' night to have a look.

Next Week...

We are moving on to Geometry next week: 2D and 3D shape including their properties.

We will be linking this to our Science lessons and writing newspaper reports about the discovery of a new species of animal.
