This Week....

has been a short week in Year 1. Starting with Bank Holiday Monday, and finishing with the children in afternoon classes today.

In the three days we've had, we've worked hard!

In Literacy we have been continuing to work on our sentence structure. The children are becoming more confident when deciding which piece of punctuation they use to close their sentence (. ? or !). We have been emphasising the importance of how we present our work in class, ensuring we try our hardest to keep it neat even when we are focusing on other skills.

In Maths we have been learning about capacity. We have looked at how liquids are measured in litres and millilitres we've also discussed some of the language used when talking...

...about measure; full, empty, half full, nearly empty, volume etc.

We discussed the units different things are measured in i.e. would we use grams, centimetres or millilitres to measure the length of a pencil? Would we use grams, kilograms or litres to measure the weight of a person?

Next Week...

We will be starting our topic on poetry. And in Maths, some of us will be brushing up on our 'teens'. Others will be looking at money, the value of different denominations of notes and coins and solving money problems.

A BIG Well Done....

Talk Topic

Could you please continue the 'Which Unit?' game we have been playing in maths? Ask your child what unit you would measure certain items in around the house and perhaps even have a go at measuring some of those items.
