This week

We have FINALLY finished our very long focus on fractions and have taken some time to explore mass and time. Time is a very tricky concept, and it would be great if you could take some time to practise telling the time both on an analogue clock, and in digital time at home. This is a life skill that will really benefit your children going forward in life.

We continue to use Ancient Egypt as our stimulus in English. We wrote great paragraphs of suspenseful narrative following our reading of 'Marcy and the Riddle of the Sphinx', and are now concentrating on writing diary entries from the perspective of Howard Carter, the man who discovered the tomb of Tutankhamun. The children are so interested in History...it is lovely to see their enthusiasm.

The children are also using artwork by Alaa Awad to create some fantastic 'Egyptian style' paintings. They are a very creative bunch!

Class Certificates

Class Superstar –

Amber for challenging herself in all areas of the curriculum

Ava for managing adversity with courage and determination

Writer of the Week-

Elsie for a fantastic narrative piece using short sentences to create tension

Kayan for an excellent diary entry as Howard Carter

Carter

Christian Value –

Joseph for being a quiet, calm member of our school family

Arthur for being a quiet, trustworthy member of the class

Our Christian Value this week is Trust

The Bible never says
"figure it all out on your own"
It simply says
trust God.
