Class News

It was lovely to have the class back together again as we begin what is always a busy term of learning and celebration. We have already shared details of our Christmas production – 'Bethlehem – The Musical' with the children and will be allocating parts next week.

Before then, however, it is the duty of Class 5 to deliver this year's Remembrance Service at 10:45am on Wednesday 11th November. All family members are warmly invited to join us in school. To give them a little more context, the children have begun reading Warhorse by Michael Morpurgo as part of their English and are focusing on WW1 in their History lessons this term. If you have any photos or details of family members who served in the Great War, we would be grateful if you could share them with us this term.

Maths lessons have continued to build our skills in comparing, ordering and adding/subtracting fractions. Times tables knowledge is key for this, so do remember to keep using TT Rockstars to keep those facts fresh in your child's mind.

Our Science, DT and Computing lessons are closely linked together this term. The plan is to design a 3D model of a fairground ride using a CAD programme, wire it up using circuits knowledge and then programme the motor using Crumble software. There will be lots of learning and thinking to be done before we finish the final product!

Finally, in RE we have begun exploring the theme of Advent as we seek to answer the question, "How do Christians prepare for Christmas?" There is certainly much for us to do in school in the coming weeks, and we are grateful that we have time to prepare thoughtfully for this special season.

Have a lovely weekend,

Mr Pratley
