I hope you have all had a fantastic half term break and had some lovely relaxing times with your families. I did lots of reading, cooking and dog walks. I made an area in my garden to feed the birds, but so far only one magpie has visited! ☹️

It feels like ages ago since I've seen lots of you, but the good news is that there's only one more week of home learning and then we're all back together in class! Hurray! Some things in our classroom will look the same (the art area, the tables where we work), some parts will look different (the book area, the small world area) but I know that you're going to have lots of fun exploring all the activities. This term we will be thinking about 'The Circle of Life' so there will be lots of animal activities for you to do. Maybe you could watch 'The Lion King' at home to get you inspired!

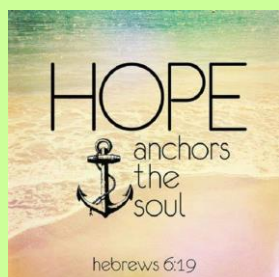

Don't worry if you can't remember what to do when you come in or where we go for lunch or break. Mrs Gingell, Mrs Perry and me will help you, and I'm sure that you'll soon remember all of our school routines. Remember to set your alarm for the first day back and get to bed nice and early!

Miss Courtney has found a very exciting recipe to make your own paint! You might like to make some to use for your artwork. The recipe is at the bottom of the letter.

Thank you for sending me your 'caught reading' photos! If you've not yet done it, there are a few days left. Take a photo of you reading your favourite book in an unusual place and email it to me and Mrs Bolton (r.bolton@leacofe.lancs.sch.uk).

Look out for an email about Parents' Evening on March 22nd which will be coming soon. As before they will be telephone appointments.

I hope you enjoy your last week of home learning. Your grown-ups have done an amazing job of helping you learn since Christmas. I bet they cannot wait for you to be back in school having lots of fun learning with your friends.

See you soon,

Love from Mrs Moores, Mrs Gingell & Mrs Perry
