

Class 4 2022-2023

Thank you for a wonderful year! I am so proud of the way that everyone has grown, both physically (because obviously I had something to do with that, haha!) and academically. Repeatedly throughout the year, when other members of staff or visitors have come into class, they have commented on the incredible attitude to learning and the standard of work we produce. You should all give yourselves a pat on the back and a high five.

We have covered so much this year. I feel like the children have got into the swing of our new Maths scheme of work and have loved the diverse nature of questioning.

We have written stories inspired by 'The Lion, the Witch and the Wardrobe',

William Shakespeare, 'How to Train Your Dragon'. But there have been two stand out units that the children have evidently loved writing about and in the style of: 'The Night Bus Hero' by Onjali Q Rauf and 'The Firework Maker's Daughter' by Philip Pullman. The calibre of writing has been exceptional.

We have enjoyed the challenges of thinking about the Psalms, Jesus and His power, the themes of Betrayal and Trust at Easter, Places of Worship, and Prayer. We have enjoyed learning about Islam and Judaism too. We have melted things, evaporated things, grown things, flew things, pulled things, turned things in Science. A real smorgasbord of activities that have helped the children understand how God's world works.

We've learned about Italy, the biomes of the world, rivers and how they are made up, as well as where they are in the world, the civilization of the Ancient Egyptians, the Tudors and the Roman occupation of Britain. We have created stop motion animations, dabbled in podcast recordings, drawing using vector shapes, made clay models, painted in various styles and developed our own creative identities.

We have all enjoyed a visit to Borwick Hall in some capacity, whether a residential or a day visit. That challenged us all and pushed us to achieve more than we thought we could. We have welcomed more badge wearers in class (both Ethos Group and Extra Milers). We have enjoyed different Zoom sessions with the RAF and with 3 Engineers.

Our Christmas pantomime was hilarious and great fun, and meeting Joe, the new vicar was a highlight too. Our Italian monument building with you all, was a great deal of fun.

I hope you all have enjoyed the past year. I hope you all enjoy the Summer break and get some rest and do lots of fun things. Don't do anything I wouldn't do!

Go have fun and make memories.

All the best and see you all in September.

Mr B
