Summer Safety

We have been so blessed to have amazing weather over the past few weeks. The children have loved playing on the school field and seeing all the nature and wildlife grow and flourish.

However, keeping safe in the sun is paramount:

- Please ensure your child has a water bottle in school every day. Water only please unless there is a specific reason to have a different drink – please talk to me if this is the case
- Sun protection – cream to be applied at home or by your child in school. Sunglasses and/or a cap to protect head and eyes

In Class

It has been our Extreme English Week in school this week where we have been enjoying some 'off the curriculum' reading and writing activities. Our focus text has been George's Marvellous Medicine by Roald Dahl, as I think his language play and subject matter has a timeless appeal to children. We could not believe the disgusting array of things George used for his medicine. The children made their own 'magic medicine' as a table group before using alliteration and onomatopoeia to construct their own Revolting Rhyme! The children had great knowledge of other Roald Dahl books too, so I hope some of them continue to read these funny and accessible stories in their own time.

Charlotte Robinson, one of our governors came into class to read to the children, as did Mr Pratley from Year 6. Fitting in beautifully with our English Week, we have been enjoying finding out the meanings of our names in RE, as we thought about how the Israelites had their names changed by King Nebuchadnezzar and about how we would feel if our names were changed. Thank you to all the children who entered our Get Caught Reading competition. We had some phenomenal entries and the array of pictures in the school hall was pored over by the children every day as more and more were added! Winners for each key stage were announced in worship this morning but I hope everyone had fun coming up with such wild and wacky ideas! Thank you to all those parents, carers and relatives who came and joined us on Wednesday for our Class 3 Showcase. It was great to see so many of you and I know the children really appreciated you taking the time to come and share their learning. The children have enjoyed painting their Mayan stelae at the end of this week.

Class Superstar –

Elsie for fabulous learning in ALL subjects
James for taking his learning outside of the classroom

Writer of the Week-

Alexander for a super version of the Ning Nang Nong
Fran for writing some super alliteration and for using onomatopoeia

Christian Value –

Leah for challenging herself with her independent learning in school and at home
Class 3 for working collaboratively during the Class 3 Showcase
