Learning this Week - "Ocean Commotion"

We have been enjoying learning about a variety of sea creatures this week. The class have written fabulous descriptions of their chosen sea creature and we have tried to guess which one was being described. We also drew pictures of them using each other's descriptions to guide our drawings. We enjoyed this activity and enjoyed looking at the pictures our friends had drawn of our creatures! We have also been reading a few stories where the characters of the story show compassion for each other.

In Maths we have been very good at going shopping with our 'plastic' money. The children have been recognising coins, adding up totals, deciding how much money we would need for a party and solving problems involving money.

Learning next Week

In English we will be looking at how information is used and organised. We will be finding out more information about sea creatures, asking how, where, why and what questions to write our own class 'Ocean Fact File'.

In Maths we will be learning more about subtraction as take away and difference (how many less/fewer).

In RE we will start our new topic learning about why the birth of Jesus such good news.

In Science we will be investigating how our bodies change during exercise and the benefits of exercise.

In Geography we will continue studying about the United Kingdom, learning about the capitals of each country and unique facts.

In Art we will investigate tone and shading when drawing sea creatures.
