Learning this Week - "Ocean Commotion"

We have started our new topic for this half term. We will be learning about different sea creatures. We shall be asking lots of different questions that we would like to find answers to, using how, where, why and what. We will be writing about them, describing them and looking more in depth about our chosen creatures and how they live. We will also be writing about fictitious sea creatures, reading and listening to make believe stories to enable us to generate ideas to write our own stories. In English we have written a description of a sea creature and read it to our friends to see if they can recognise which creature we are describing. In Maths we have been using 'arrays' to show multiplication as addition pictorially.

Learning next Week

In English we will continue to write about sea creatures using ideas from our shared story 'Commotion in the Ocean'. We will also learn about the Bible story 'Jonah and The Whale'.

In Maths we will be learning about subtraction as take away and difference (how many less/fewer)

In RE we will start our new topic learning about why the birth of Jesus such good news.

In Science we have continued to find about the needs of animals (including humans) for survival. We have looked at how eating the right amounts of different foods are needed to be healthy, including studying nutritional values on packaged foods.

In Geography we are using atlases and globes to locate the world's oceans and the 7 continents.
