"Ocean Commotion"

Learning this Week

We have been busy writing and producing our own non-fiction books about sea creatures. We have used a range of information books and searching answers using the internet. Everyone has found out some amazing facts! We are a very knowledgeable class!

In Maths we have been learning about sharing and dividing an amount equally. We have looked at halving an amount and finding a quarter of a given number by halving and halving again.

Learning next Week

In English we will be presenting our class 'Ocean Fact File' using all the features of non-fiction texts that we have learned this week.

In Maths we will continue sharing a given amount equally and learning how to find a $\frac{1}{2}$ and $\frac{1}{4}$.

In RE we will continue learning about what is good news and how good news is spread. We will be focusing on the roles of the disciples and followers of Jesus who continued to spread the good news of Jesus the son of God who came to save people and mend their friendship with God.

In PE we will be perfecting our gymnastics routine in small groups and presenting our sequences to each other. The children have been learning different travel movements, jumps, balances and rolls and have been working very well in their groups collaborating together.
