What's going on this week?

Scientists conducting the world's largest study of gender differences in the brain have recently found men were more likely to prefer "things" and "systems", while women were more interested in people and emotions.

It is a heavily debated issue as to why some jobs in areas such as engineering or construction are mainly chosen by men, and others such as beauty and caring professions, are mainly chosen by women.

Things to talk about at home...

- 🍏 It's often thought that men and women think differently, do you think this is true? Why?
- 🍏 Do you think some jobs are better suited to men and others to women or do you think that this is old-fashioned?
- 🍏 Do you think older people have different views about this to you? Why do you think this might be the case?

Please note any interesting thoughts or comments here...
