

Year 1

Mrs Lucarelli's Weekly Newsletter.

8th November 2019

Open Door: Tuesday 8:30am
- 8:55am

This Week...

We have been looking at a new book, 'The Perfect Present' another book written by Fiona Robertson. We have picked key words from the text and looked at how to spell them. We have also compared the books, looking at what is the same and what is different.

In Maths we have been looking at fractions. We looked at how a fraction is an equal part of a whole. We have learnt about halves and quarters. We have found halves and quarters of shapes, food and halves of amounts. Please see the homework challenge for this week.

Spellings this week all end in 'nk'.

Certificates and Awards

Curriculum Certificate -

Rocco - for improved writing and reading back of his work.

Christian Value Certificate for

Hope -

Georgia

Next Week...

We will be writing a story in the style of Fiona Robertson. In Maths we will be learning about Capacity.

Handwriting and Presentation

We are having a big drive on handwriting and presentation in school. Please be aware of this when completing homework at home. Please find enclosed in homework books this week a letter formation sheet which shows how we are forming lower case letters in year 1. The starting point for each letter has been indicated with a red dot. The pencil remains on the page until the letter is complete (With the exception of i, j, t, and x)
