"Ocean Commotion"

Learning this Week

We have had a very busy week and have been really flourishing with our singing.

We are all so excited about our upcoming Key Stage Production. We have been practising well, using our loud voices and perfecting our acting and singing skills.

We are all really looking forward to showing you our fantastic performance of 'God's Special Plan' on Tuesday 17th November at 2pm and 6pm. We hope you have received your tickets to attend. Please contact school if you have not.

We have also been working really hard practising to improve the presentation of our work. We are really trying our best to both write more and to ensure we use correct letter formation, space between our words and correct size letters. In RE we have written the full story of the nativity, and used our KS1 performance to help write the story in the correct sequence as events happened.

Learning next Week

In English we will continue to read rhyming poetry. We will write simple poetry based on different models and perform our poetry.

In RE we will continue learning about what is good news and how good news is spread. We will be focusing how angels spread good news and what we think angels look like. We will also look at some artists' interpretations of what angels look like.
