

Class 3 Newsletter – 28.6.19

This Week...

We have been enjoying the sunshine at last! Last week we had our Ofsted inspection and the children behaved so well, reading to the inspector, talking to him and showing their work. We had a brilliant theatre production of The Hobbit on Monday which the whole school family enjoyed. We have been doing advertisements in our English work and identifying features such as similes and rhetorical questions. We are now planning to write our own advertisements for either shampoo or a pair of trainers. In our Maths, we have been completing assessments which is helping me to determine the areas of maths I need to revise in the remaining few weeks. Please continue to work on times tables as this is crucial to the children calculating answers to a wide variety of word problems. We have been completing some collage using pictures taken from magazines and catalogues sent in last week; these look really effective so thank you for sending these into school.

The current Year 3 children will be split, with half of the children moving to Class 4 with Mr Bateman and half remaining in Class 3 with myself.

All Year 4 children will access the same curriculum and Mr Bateman and I plan together regularly to ensure consistency.

If you have any concerns or queries regarding the class that your child will be in September, please come and speak to myself or Mrs Seagrave.
